

JAPAN'S ENVOYS MET BY HUGHES AT R. R. STATION

War Time Regulations Observed at Reception of Japanese

SUCCESS PREDICTED

Prince Recalls Visit to U. S. in 1910—Wants to See Former President Taft.

Distinctive war-time regulations, such as were enforced when foreign missions visited this country during the world war, accompanied the reception of Prince Iyesato Tekugawa, president of the House of Peers, and Admiral Tomosaburo Kato, minister of marine, of Japan, among the principal foreign delegates to the international arms conference, on their arrival in this city at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

A small group of citizens at Union Station applauded the arrival of the Japanese representatives. The official reception committee was headed by Secretary of State Hughes, Secretary of Navy Denby and Assistant Secretary of Navy Roosevelt, accompanied by their respective staffs, and the occasion assumed a formal atmosphere.

Baron Kijuro Shidehara, Japanese Ambassador to the United States, the other principal delegate of the Japanese government, greeted his fellow dignitaries as they stepped from the special train which had brought them and their party across the continent from Seattle.

The appearance of Secretary of State Hughes at Union Station, a few minutes before the arrival of the distinguished visitors, brought forth a ripple of applause from the bystanders, at it was the first time that he had attended the arrival of any delegation.

Accompanying Secretary Hughes, besides the Secretary and Assistant Secretary of the Navy, were Admiral Robert E. Goddard, chief of naval operations; Capt. D. F. Sellers, Capt. Luke McNamee, Comdr. W. W. Galbraith, Brig. Gen. A. W. Brewster, representing the War Department; Major Karl F. Baldwin and Third Assistant Secretary of State Robert Wood Bliss.

After the official welcome as the delegates stepped from their train and the exchange of pleasantries in the Presidential room in the Union Station building, the party proceeded to the front of the building, where the Cavalry Band from Fort Myer conducted the reception ceremonies by playing the Japanese national anthem, followed by the "Star Spangled Banner."

Escorted by a cavalcade from Fort Myer, the delegates and their staffs were conveyed by motor car to the National Capitol to the Shoreham Hotel, where the official Japanese headquarters for the arms conference have been established.

So rigid were the regulations laid down by the State Department governing the arrival of these delegates that several members of the official welcoming party experienced considerable difficulty in gaining admission through the police lines and headquarters detectives and were refused admission to the train sheds and the Presidential room, where they had been assigned to duty.

Celebrate Centennial

Every Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Virginia will celebrate the centennial of the Diocese of Virginia by special sermons from the rectors and by taking a special thank offering for missions. Ministers will review the achievements of the organization through the long years of its existence, emphasizing the marked progress since 1919 when the nation-wide campaign was first put in operation, giving both spiritual and material impetus to the work. It will be shown how the gospel of Christ has been spread not only by preaching, but through the establishing of schools, hospitals and social centers here among the mountain people and negroes of Virginia, the Indians of the West and the millions in foreign lands.

There are 16,638 Episcopalians in Virginia to do the work and it is hoped that by another year the number will have greatly increased, for there are thousands of people within the radius of this diocese not affiliated with any church, and the first thought concerning the campaign is that it shall be a great spiritual movement throughout this area. A fuller consecration of the individual to the following of the Master is urged and a closer application to Christian service. The tremendous and abiding value of the campaign on its financial side is that it has given the diocese a policy and plan covering the whole field of work, whereas, heretofore, it had been done in a more or less aimless manner.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Washington, Nov. 3.—Despite the fact that a cautious reading of the Constitution of the United States might seem to make it necessary for Senators Lodge, of Massachusetts and Underwood, of Alabama to resign their places in the Senate during the time of their service on the American delegation to the arms conference, there is no prospect that either will do so and there is ample precedent for their serving both as members of the Senate and as members of the delegation.

Although there are perhaps hundreds of precedents that might be cited to show where members of the House and Senate served in various government capacities, always without pay, the case analogous to the present is that of Senators Cushman K. Davis, of Minnesota and William P. Frye, of Maine, who were appointed in 1898 by President McKinley as members of the American Commission to draw up a treaty of peace with Spain. Neither Davis nor Frye gave up his seat in the Senate and neither received pay for his work on the Peace Commission.

High officers of the army do not seem to be particularly disturbed over the charges made by Senator Watson, of Georgia that American soldiers in France were sent to the gallows "day after day without court martial or any other form of trial."

Although these officers find themselves prohibited from discussing the Watson charges publicly, they declare there is not a word of truth in them; that Watson cannot prove even a scintilla of evidence to support them and that not by even the wildest stretch of imagination could anyone who had been to France believe a portion of the Watson charges. An officer of the Judge Advocate General's Office who served in France pointed out today that the American Expeditionary Force meted out the death sentence rarely. Only ten men of the whole 2,000,000 in France were hanged and in every case it was because of rape or because of murder and attempted rape. Several soldiers convicted of murder were not hanged but sentenced to long prison terms; many convicted of desertion and several of cowardice, offenses punishable by death under the law, were also sentenced to prison terms. The most flagrant cases of disobedience were punished only by imprisonment.

Under the tax fixed in the revenue act of 1918 a levy of six dollars a barrel of 31 gallons will be collected by United States brewers who will soon begin turning out real beer under the terms of the regulations recently issued. The consumer will have to pay 40 cents a case tax on every case of two and a quarter gallons, or 24 bottles. It is said that the brewers are preparing to charge from five to eight dollars a case for beer which they turn over to retail druggists to be sold in the trade and if this price is fixed it is going to make it a pretty expensive proposition to lay any beer aside for a rainy day.

President Harding has already started work on the two speeches he will make next week, one at the burial of the unknown soldier in Arlington on Armistice day and the other on the following day at the opening of the arms conference. Viewed from any angle these speeches are easily to be the most important the President has delivered inasmuch as his friends confidently expect him to announce in them the world policy of the United States.

These speeches will be delivered under the most auspicious circumstances, the Arlington oration marking the end of the greatest war era in the history of this government, and the following speech inaugurating the attempt to make future wars more difficult. The whole world will be the audience for both speeches which will be read and pondered not only by the premiers and leading statesmen of the various nations in attendance here, but which will be translated into nearly every language and read everywhere as the official statement of the position of the United States on the prevention of wars.

According to reports received today by the National Coal Association the country as a whole appears at this time to be fairly well supplied with stocks of both bituminous and anthracite coal, so that if a strike should come in the bituminous fields, disaster would not follow such action on the part of the miners. Household consumers as a rule have not stocked their bins heavily with coal but there is available in retail yards a country over a sufficient supply to last on an average of three weeks. This may be considered a reserve household supply. Taken together the stocks in the bins and in the retail yards will average approximately from six weeks' to two months' supply the country over.

TO CELEBRATE WASHINGTON'S MASONIC START

Sixteen Lodges Have Accepted Invitations to Participate

PROGRAM IS GIVEN

Exercises Tomorrow Night in Elks' Home—Grand Officers and Distinguished Visitors to Attend.

Invitations have been extended to the sixteen lodges in this Masonic district to attend a joint celebration on November 4th (tomorrow night) of the initiation of George Washington into the mysteries of Freemasonry and all have accepted and will be represented by full delegations. The event which took place in No. 4 Lodge in Fredericksburg, November 4, 1752, is perhaps the most important in the history of the American craft. No community in this country has a more intimate claim upon the life and associations of Washington than Alexandria—not only in a Masonic sense but in every walk of his eventful life. He was to all intents and purposes an Alexandrian. Locating at Mt. Vernon when but fourteen years of age, this man's aspiring genius winged its immortal flight from the tranquil scenes of that now revered shrine, and constant, unwavering devotion and support of his neighbors who watched with pride the expanding influence of their champion in war and in peace, remained as a source of merited pride to the great leader to the end of his life. Every Alexandrian Mason, whose engagements will permit should show his veneration for this great leader of men and patron of Masonry, by his presence on this occasion. The following is the program as arranged by the Committee in charge, which consists of J. E. W. Timmerman, chairman; P. E. Clift, F. M. Peck, Geo. C. Coles, C. W. Fletcher, S. W. Pitts and C. H. Callahan. The visitors will be shown through the temple where the relics will be explained by the custodian, Geo. W. Zachary. Lodge will be called in the Elks Hall at 8 p. m. and officers of the local lodge are requested to be present at 7:30 p. m. in full dress; reception of grand officers will follow in due form at the conclusion of which an address of welcome to the visiting brethren will be delivered, followed by a musical program and speaking by Senators Pat Harrison, Thos. Heflin and Hon. Louis A. Watkins. The latter will take for his subject "A Memorial to Washington the Mason in Alexandria."

Building Association Granted Charter

The State Corporation Commission has granted a charter to the Alexandria Permanent Building and Loan Association of Virginia, Inc. The maximum capital stock is $250,000. The minimum is $350. The officers and incorporators are: Oscar C. Thomas, president; J. P. O. Blankenhorn, vice president; James C. Bass, secretary; H. L. Redday, treasurer; Robert E. Bundy, sales manager. All of the officers are of Aurora Hills, Arlington county.

ON LONG JOURNEY

Two Washington Women On Bicycle Trip to Pacific Coast

Miss Florence B. Dearing and Miss Evelyn Morey, of Washington, D. C., representing the Fellowship Forum, the national weekly newspaper published in the National Capital, arrived here today on their bicycle tour from Washington to the Pacific Coast. They are visiting Masonic Lodge Officers and Officers of Consistories on a mission to bring about closer relations of fellowship between the Masonic organizations of the country. These young women have had experience in war work, and although they both appear like mere girls they are veterans of the world war, one having been engaged in Y. M. C. A. work in France, and the other having served in the office of the Secretary of War. They gave up their positions in the government service to undertake the mission on behalf of closer fellowship among fraternities, this being the purpose of the publication they represent. "Buddy," a thoroughbred German police dog is their constant companion and protector. He seems to be enjoying the trip as much as his fair mistresses. When the young women left Washington they were given God Speed by the Grand Master of the District of Columbia who entrusted to their care a letter of introduction to the Grand Masters of all the States through which they pedal their way. They also bear a letter from the editor of their paper to the Grand Masters.

MACNIDER NEW COMMANDER OF LEGIONNAIRES

Iowan, Former Lieutenant Colonel, Elected Head of American Legion

DECORATED 5 TIMES

Kansas City Meeting Modifies Resolution Censuring Ambassador Harvey for London Speech.

Kansas City, Nov. 3.—The national convention of the American Legion adjourned here tonight after electing Hanford MacNider, of Mason City, Iowa, national commander, selecting other officers and adopting resolutions covering a wide range of subjects. The convention had been in session without a recess since early this morning.

The election of Mr. MacNider to succeed John G. Emery, of Grand Rapids, Mich., was made unanimous after more than half of the State delegations had seconded his nomination, Roy Hoffman, of Oklahoma City; Earl M. Cline, of Nebraska City, Neb., and John P. Williams, of Joplin, Mo., had withdrawn in his favor.

The new Legion head was born October 2, 1884, at Mason City, Iowa. He graduated from Milton Academy, Milton, Mass., in June, 1907, and from Harvard University in 1911. Mr. MacNider arrived in France on September 20, 1917, as an officer in the Ninth United States Infantry. During his overseas service he was promoted until he finally attained rank of lieutenant colonel of infantry. He has been decorated with the Croix de Guerre (five citations, five palms, on gold and one silver star), Fourragere and the Italian War Cross. He was given three citations in general orders.

Before his departure from France he served with the Second Division Headquarters. Since his return to civilian life he has been prominent in Legion work in his State, having acted as department commander. He is a banker and is unmarried.

The vice-commanders chosen were George L. Berry, of Rogersville, Tenn.; H. Nelson Jackson, of Burlington, Vt., and Charles Kendrick, of San Francisco, representing the army, and Raymond Brackett, of Marblehead, Mass., and J. A. McCormick, of Fort Lyon, Col., of the Navy.

The Rev. Earl Blackman, of Chanute, Kan., a minister of the Christian Church, was elected national chaplain. A fight for the removal of the National Legion headquarters from Indianapolis to Kansas City, which the Missouri delegation promised in pre-convention campaigning to bring on the floor, did not develop.

To Scalp "Palefaces"

Red Men To Take In Large Class. The young braves of Seminole Tribe, No. 35, Red Men, this city, will go on the war path tonight and scalp several palefaces. The meeting will be held in the wigwam of Seminole Tribe in the Alexandria National Bank building, corner King and Royal streets.

The tribe will have as their guests the members of Osceola Tribe No. 1 and a large delegation is expected to be on hand and witness the conferring of the degrees by the crack degree team of the local tribe. Last night the team of Tribe No. 35, this city, and conferred the three degrees of the order upon a class of palefaces and the degree was witnessed by a large gathering of local members of the fraternity.

Both tribes are on the war-path and this year promises to be a great year for Redmen in this city. The "Glad Hand" Committee will be on the job tonight and will extend a true and royal greeting to every member that enters the wigwam of Seminole Tribe.

All visitors are especially invited to attend the council fire of the tribe. The business session will start at 7:30 and the degree will start at 8.

Bible Thought for Today

BETTER THAN SILVER AND GOLD.—Godliness with contentment is great gain. For we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out. And having food and raiment let us therewith be content.—1 Timothy 6: 6, 7, 8.

VOTE TO BUILD 1.2 MILES OF MODERN ROAD

Strip Extends From Corporation Line to Donaldson's Store

SOON TO START WORK

Action Taken Yesterday By Board of Supervisors of Fairfax County—Advocated by Commerce Chamber.

One and two-tenths miles of roadway of concrete or some other substantial material will be constructed from the Alexandria city limits on the west, at King street extended, to Donaldson's store, Fairfax county. This was decided upon by the board of supervisors of Fairfax county at a meeting held yesterday.

Capt. George H. Evans, on behalf of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, appeared before the board in the interest of its construction.

It is stated that the supervisors hope to have the work started at an early date and complete it before winter sets in.

The road will be at least twenty feet wide it is announced. With the construction of this strip of roadway there will be a modern roadway all the way from Alexandria to Bailey's Cross Roads, Fairfax county, a distance of fourteen miles.

The new link of roadway will connect up with a splendid gravel roadway extending to Bailey's Cross Roads. Action on the proposition for its construction was unanimous by the supervisors.

For some time past the Chamber of Commerce has worked hard to induce the supervisors to build this stretch of roadway and the news that the work is to be done was received with general satisfaction by the commerce directors and also by the residents of Fairfax, especially persons owning automobiles.

REVIVAL SERVICES

Will Open Sunday Night At Woodlawn Baptist Church

Rev. John E. Briggs, D. D., pastor of Fifth Baptist Church, Washington, D. C., will begin a revival meeting at Woodlawn Baptist Church at 3 p. m., Sunday, November 6th. The balance of the week and Sunday, 13th, he will preach at 7:30 p. m. Prayer and song service will begin half an hour earlier. Dr. Briggs is one of the foremost and most successful pastors of the Baptist denomination, and it will be a distinct loss to miss his eloquent and deep series of sermons.

Dr. Richard L. Grainger, and Captain Myers, of Washington, will have charge of the music service. As song leaders, they are as magnetic and resourceful and talented as could be desired. These, with Dr. Briggs, make a superb evangelistic force as any of the big city churches can afford. In fact it is eminently proper that a church like Woodlawn, situated right next a permanent army camp and in a community of much more than ordinary intelligence should have at all times able and efficient service.

The justly famous Camp Humphreys band, will be on hand to furnish thrilling music.

At the 3 p. m., service next Sunday 6th, a bevy of Woodlawn young ladies will pin a bouquet of roses on the bosom of all guests who honor the church with their presence at this first service.

We appeal to all friends to help us in this revival with their presence and their prayer.

GOLDEN WEDDING

A very enjoyable event took place last evening, November 2nd, at the home of W. H. Reed, on North Washington street, occasioned by the 50th anniversary of Dr. George Roberts and wife, Mrs. Reed's father and mother.

The fruits of the union were eight children, seventeen grand children, and two great grand children. Mrs. Reed served an elaborate supper, enjoyed by all.

Dr. Roberts entertained by reviewing their horoscope, showing the position of the planets at 7 p. m. of the day, which was very favorable for a prolonged and happy future. This was also corroborated by the science of numbers as taught by Pythagoras.

A remarkable coincidence was in the lives of two other couples present. The three men having ages 74 and 76, the wives around 72 years. Mr. Edward Steele celebrating next month and Mr. G. W. Reed next November. Many fine gifts were received and appreciated.

STATE NEWS

Richmond—Many prominent educators are scheduled to address the annual convention of the Co-Operative Education Association in the auditorium of the John Marshall High School Nov. 23, 24 and 25, according to the program officially announced today. Members of the association will be in attendance from every section of the state and elaborate preparations are being made to accommodate the large number who will be here.

Roanoke—Two cars of Holstein cattle representing herds in Roanoke and Montgomery counties, left Roanoke Monday for Richmond, where on November 1, a breeders' consignment sale will be held. All the cattle were registered and tuberculosis tested. The offering at the sale will include some of the best blooded cattle in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Pennsylvania and New York.

Norfolk—Local automobile thieves were given credit for possessing a sense of humor when it was learned Monday that the car of B. Gray Tunstall, city treasurer, had been stolen from before the doorstep of Charles B. Borland, chief of police, while the two officials were holding an informal conference on city affairs. Mr. Tunstall's ire was particularly aroused over the fact that it was brand new roadster, purchased to take the place of the car which had been stolen from him last summer.

Norfolk—First of the five houses which will be barged from Tortkown to Norfolk is expected to arrive here this week, according to W. B. Hastings, who, with his brother, is interested in the enterprise. Two of the houses are now upon barges, awaiting the tug which will tow them to this city; the others are at the water's edge. The five houses, which were built during the war for officers' quarters, will be placed at Riverfront, Mr. Hastings said. They will be set up in a row on five lots recently purchased in that suburb by the partners.

KIWANIS CLUB

The weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club was held today in the Westminister Building and was largely attended. The following new members were elected: M. B. Harlow, Harry Wade, H. B. Caton, Arthur Herbert and Warren Grubbs. Col. J. Y. Williams presided.

TRINITY M. E. CHURCH

These services are developing into a wonderful power for good in this city. The great interest that is manifested by the great throng of people that attend these services every night clearly shows the great need for holding them. Rev. D. H. Martin, D. D., preached last night to a full house, in his usual eloquent and impressive way.

At the close of his sermon many came forward to the altar. The singing of the old time gospel songs by the choir of both churches is inspiring.

The pastors of the churches, Rev. Martin and Rev. Browne, extend a hearty welcome to everybody. Come and have a good time. The preacher for this evening will be the Rev. Robert Browne, pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church. You will be repaid for coming to hear this man.

A Noted Character

William Barclay Masterson is dead. To the citizens of the Commonwealth of Virginia that statement probably means less than nothing. Out on the plains of Kansas the oldtimers will get together and tell of the things that "Bat" Masterson, city marshal of Dodge City in its roaring, reckless days, did to preserve law and order in a raw and rowdy cow-town.

"Bat" Masterson, scout, Indian fighter, gambler, peace-officer, killer, was a generation removed from William Barclay Masterson sporting editor of "The New York Telegraph," and Cosmopolitan newspaper writer. With twenty-eight authenticated killings to his credit, Masterson left the sage-brush and alkali flats of the west to settle in the city where gunmen flourish, but he said a different type from the ex-marshal of Dodge City. "Bat" played his game wide open and took on any and all comers when he pinned on his marshal's badge and the fact that he lived to a ripe age testifies to his gameness and aggressiveness.

He was one of the army who made the western plains a decent country in which to rear a family. He carried civilization to the far corners of the earth, preaching law and order with a smoking Colt, and he made his sermons clear. His type is passing. Scattered here and there a few veterans swap yarns of the old days when the world was young and the blood was hot. "Bat" dropped dead at his desk. We believe that he would have had it. In Boot Hill back on the outskirts of Dodge City in the State of Kansas lie many of his friends of the old days who died with their boots on. "Bat" has gone to join the "Old Guard" and may his soul rest in peace.

FIND NO TRACE OF ASSAILANT OF REV. SMET

Reward of $200 Offered by K. of C., For Arrest and Conviction

ROBBER WAS EXPERT

Wore Gloves to Avoid Finger Prints Being Taken—Father Smet is Recovering.

Thus far the police are without a single clue as to the identity of the burglar who yesterday morning broke into the parsonage of St. Mary's Catholic Church, 310 Duke street, and after stealing the gold watch of Father Smet together with a small amount of money, knocked Father Smet in the head with what is thought to have been a blackjack.

The condition of Father Smet it was stated at the rectory today is slightly improved, although he is still confined to his bed and has suffered greatly from his injuries. He was reported somewhat weaker, although it was stated he was doing as well as could be expected.

Many theories have been advanced regarding the robbery. All, however, are simply a matter of speculation. That the man was an expert in his line is the opinion of the police. Fred Sandberg, Washington police photographer, came here yesterday and endeavored to obtain finger prints. He, however, was unable to get an impression and it was discovered that the burglar evidently wore gloves in order to avoid having his finger prints taken.

That the burglar has at least one confederate is the opinion of the police and some are inclined to think that several strange men have endeavored during the past four days to operate in the city. It also is pointed out that the robber suspected that there was considerable money in the parsonage at the time, as collections were taken at the All Saints' Day services in that church at all of the services on Tuesday. The collection it is stated amounted to considerable. However, the collections were banked that day it is stated.

The police all last night again combed the city in search of suspects but were unable to find any suspicious strangers.

As heretofore stated the police have a hat purchased from a dealer in Portland, Maine, and a small flash light which they hope may throw some light on the identity of the burglar.

The suspect who was taken in custody a short time after the robbery has been released from custody.

Many persons today called at the rectory to inquire concerning the condition of Father Smet.

A reward of $200 today was offered by Fitzgerald Council, No. 459, Knights of Columbus, for the arrest and conviction of the party who assaulted and robbed Father Smet.

Compliment Police on Splendid Showing

Members of the police force who were inspected yesterday afternoon at police headquarters by Mayor Duncan and the members of the board of police commissioners were complimented on the splendid appearance they made. All of the members of the force except two appeared for the inspection. Afterward the commissioners and members of the force were photographed. The photograph was taken in front of police headquarters by M. Loeb.

POSTPONE HEARING

Injunction Proceedings Fixed For November 11. In the Corporation Court today the application of Mrs. Mary E. Woodfield for an injunction to restrain William F. Woodfield from interfering with her in the removal of the body of her husband Joseph F. Woodfield from a lot in the Methodist cemetery was postponed till November 11. Mrs. Woodfield is represented by Attorneys Nicol and Son, and Mr. Woodfield has retained the services of Attorney Charles Henry Smith to represent him in the case.

CALL TO PRAYER

The annual week of prayer observed by the Woman's Missionary Society of M. E. Church South, will commence Sunday evening, November 6th, with missionary sermon by the pastor. A full program for the week will be found in Saturday's Gazette. All members and friends of the church are most cordially invited to these services. The united prayers of all Christian people are most needed at this time, for "The Prayers of the Righteous availeth much."

HIGH SCHOOL GAS

It is much to be hoped that the City Council Committee on light, to whom was referred the bill providing for installation of gas mains in the High School, will make a favorable report very soon. We are sure that this measure is sadly needed, chemistry being taught only every two years, alternating with physics, and this being chemistry year. The mains should be laid at once in order to permit the chemistry classes to use the laboratory during the present term.

VOTE NEXT TUESDAY

Voting day is drawing nigh—next Tuesday, the 8th instant. We adjure, again, the voters of Alexandria, men and women, to discharge their obligation to the state and exercise their franchise. Kentucky has a population of 2,416,013, and her 1920 vote was 908,977. North Carolina has a population of 2,556,486, and her vote was 538,294. Tennessee has a population of 2,337,459, and her vote was 426,387. The Old Dominion has a population of 2,556,486, and yet she voted only 229,128 in the same year.

The apathy as to the electoral franchise is nation-wide, however, and not peculiar to any one state. Neither is the cause traceable to partisan politics. One of the reasons for the neglect of our citizens to go to the polls, is probably the time-honored precept of letting the other fellow do it. But more than once these civic slackers have waked up the day after the election and found their candidates beaten.

There is an especial concern in polling as big a vote at the present election as can be gotten out. The Republican Party is unusually active this year in Virginia. The various campaign clubs and partisan organizations have imported prominent Republican speakers, and wrought them selves up to a high pitch of neurasthenic excitement over state issues. President Harding, their official head, has only recently amazed the South by attacking a problem that has confronted her for many years, and displaying his profound ignorance of its essential elements. This, too, in a southern city.

Every Democrat who is a qualified voter in Alexandria owes it to himself, his party, and his state to go to the polls next Tuesday. To neglect this solemn obligation is to betray his own people. We hope to see the largest vote polled in Alexandria at this election that has ever been cast. Vote, yourself, but don't stop there. Stir up your friends and neighbors and see to it that they vote, too.

Sinking Fund Commissioner Tomorrow Will Open Bids For $28,000 City Four Per Cent Bonds

Announcement is made that sinking fund commissioners of the city that they will purchase $28,000, more or less, of the four per cent coupon bonds of the city of Alexandria. The amount purchased will be determined by the figures at which they are offered.

Bidders it is announced are requested to offer their holdings at a flat rate. The bids must be sealed and will be opened at 11:30 o'clock in the office of the city treasurer. The commissioners reserve the right to reject any and all bids, it is announced.

ABOUT THE HOUSE

by R. S.

Up until recently the homeliest article about the house was the telephone. The old style wall hangers were unsightly to say the least, and they were stuck around in the out of sight nooks, making their necessary use inconvenient, and a lengthy conversation a nightmare. Then came the desk 'phones. These were an improvement, but not until some clever cabinet maker conceived the idea of special furniture for this little instrument did the telephone become a thing of pleasure as well as utility. Business like tables in mission style, with concealed shelf for the directory, and a nested stool are not out of place in any hall or living room. Even daintier are the spindle-leg desks in mahogany with low backed chair to match. Concealing the telephone, a hoop skirted dame with hands folded demurely promenades upon the desk while an oval mirror reflects her gay attire guarding her secret well until the tinkling bell summons her mistress for an engagement with her heart's dearest, or a quarrel with her dress maker.

Someone is always thinking up some plan, it seems to simplify woman's work about the house. Now it is a detachable table top of porcelain for the kitchen table that can be had for a mere fraction of the cost of an entire table of the same material.

Not until I watched my neighbor "do" her dishes in a big oval pan of enamelware did I realize what an improvement over the old round dish pan this was. It sets snugly under the faucets of the sink instead of tipping around everywhere except where you want it.

Back in my old "neck of the woods" we used to pass helpful hints around, and in this way we learned from one little economist a use for the hooks on our old supporters. She saved hers, and then made squares of padded ticking for pot and pan lifters, sewing a hook in the corner of each. These hung on convenient nails in different parts of the kitchen and pantry and were much more convenient than the casual cloth for lifting hot vessels.

Sometimes bottles which have been used for holding water or other liquid have a sediment clinging to bottom and sides impossible to reach with a cloth. In that case, tear bits of paper into the bottle, and after putting in a small amount of water and gently sloshing around, the jug or bottle will be perfectly cleansed. Scald thoroughly with boiling water.

Sometimes the salad dressing turns out lummy. Again it is the cravvy that will not behave with company expected. Don't worry and stew about it, but take your wire egg beater and gently beat all lumps until a creamy consistency is the result. Sour milk for cooking that has become lummy in a warm room can be beaten perfectly smooth in the same way.

It was a new thing for me when I first saw it, but a woman having the name and fame of being one of the most "particular" and finest cooks in her community kept a new scrubbing brush for poultry, and never hesitated to use Ivory soap upon their yellow hides diligently. A number of rashes resulted in a beautiful white smooth-skin fowl for the oven.

Most housewives wait until spring for the brightening up process. If ever we need cheerful quarters and especially a bright kitchen, it is in the gloomy months of winter. Bright sanitary corners made so with fresh paint and freshly varnished linoleum and the germs hiking off in the other direction.

The pastel shades of colored linens may be lost from fading by using borax in the washing and rinsing water.

It is asserted that a tablespoon of "heavy added" to the rinsing water in which silk things are washed restores the colors and makes them like new.

Six dozen small cucumbers four inches long, 1-2 cupful of salt, 1 pound small white onions, 2 tablespoons celery seed, 1-1-2 cups salad oil, 1 quart of vinegar.

Slice, but do not peel the cucumbers sprinkle them with salt and let stand overnight. After draining, add the onion, sliced thin, the celery, salt and mustard seed. Make a dressing by beating thoroughly together the oil and vinegar, adding the latter gradually. Pour this over the cucumbers and onions, mix well and can.

Red Pepper Jam
Twelve large red sweet peppers, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 pint vinegar, 3 cups sugar.

Remove the seeds from the peppers and put through a chopper using the medium knife. Sprinkle with salt and let stand several hours. Drain put in porcelain kettle, and add vinegar consistency of jam, about one gar and sugar. Boil gently until of hour. Pour into sterilized glasses and when cold cover with paraffin.

Girl Scouts Efficient Homemakers

CANNING fruits and vegetables is just one way that the Girl Scout shows her ability as a homemaker. Unless you happen to be a parent or teacher of one of the 112,000 Girl Scouts in this country you probably don't know that canning is the favorite indoor sport of the Girl Scouts.

What is the most economical way to buy flour, sugar, cereals, butter and vegetables? How should they be kept in the house?

What is the law in your community concerning the disposition of trash, bones and garbage? How should you care for these things in the house?

If there is no law what will you do with them and why?

Under what conditions do germs thrive and vermin infest? How can both be kept away? How should mattresses, pillows, upholstered furniture, papered walls, and windows be cleaned?

These are a few of the questions the Girl Scout must answer if she is to win the merit badge with the crossed keys which is the symbol of the homemaker.

As a canner she must submit specimen of her work showing the cold pack method, six jars of preserved fruit and six glasses of jelly. If she wins the laurels badge she must know how to remove stains of all kinds; how flannels should be washed; how to make starch and how to wash colored garments.

Besides all this there are badges to be won as hostess, as needlewoman, as milliner, as nurse, child nurse and cook. By the time the Girl Scout has won all of these she can make her own hats and dresses, take care of babies and invalids and make nice "like mother used to make."

"—But don't rush the furnace

We certainly are saving coal with our Perfection."

There will be a material saving of coal in over a million homes this year. The cost of coal has changed little, while kerosene has been reduced to almost half its former price.

And besides its great economy, the Perfection provides comfort-point heat for corners or bay windows that are hard to warm up with your coal heater.

The Perfection is practically a portable radiator. It is light, compact, yet durable and is an ornament in any room. Burns for about ten hours without refilling. No bother or fuss—just cozy comfort whenever you want it, quickly.

Put a Perfection in the path of those dangerous air currents and drafts. They will get in, through the window or door frames.

Go to your hardware dealer or department store today and see how attractive and practical the Perfection is, how strongly built it is, its smokeless wick adjustment.

If you have any news item you want published, or if you are entertaining, visiting, or being visited, phone the Gazette, No. 7, society editor, who will be glad to assist you in writing it up.

A valuable fox hound the property of William F. Webster, 519 South Lee street, which strayed away more than a week ago, has been recovered. The dog was found by George Peverill, Jr., and returned yesterday to its owner. Mr. Peverill saw an advertisement for the dog in the Gazette.

A run of No. 1 Fire Company yesterday was a result of a chimney fire at 308 North Patrick street. Little damage was done. Furnaces and house fires are being started over the city as the result of the cooler weather and the citizens have been warned to carefully inspect their chimneys and flues to insure against possible loss by fire.

Cleveland Jenkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Jenkins, of 920 Franklin street, claims the distinction of being the first Halloween baby, having been registered, according to Dr. T. Marshall Jones, at 1:40 a. m., Monday, October 31. According to the terms stated in the Gazette, the official announcement can be made only after the official returns from the city health office are received, which will probably be within the next week. So far, the claims of Master Jenkins have not been disputed.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lacy entertained at their home, Potters' Hill, Fairfax county, Halloween night in honor of their daughters, Misses Ruth and Mildred Lacy. Among those present were the Misses Myra Allen, Mary Gallait, E. Lacy and E. M. Ayres, and the Messrs. L. Parker, W. M. Parker, M. S. Snow, Noel Allen, Jr., J. C. Allen, Milburn Lacey, Russell Lacy, J. Gallait, C. Gallait, and Albert Gallait. The spirit of Halloween entered into the lovely reception that was tendered the guests, and those present spent a delightful evening, despite the inclemency of the weather.

Mine Fatalities

Washington, D. C., Oct. 12.—Reports received by the United States Bureau of Mines from operators of iron mines throughout the country, show that accidents in the year 1920 resulted in 106 deaths and 9,072 non-fatal injuries. The figures represent decreases of 33 fatal and 26 non-fatal accidents as compared with the previous year. The iron mining industry employed 45,990 men, which is practically the same as for 1919. The statistics indicate a fatality rate of 2.34 and an injury rate of 200.49 per 1,000 men employed. A notable feature of the year's activities was a gain of about 46 per cent in the number of shifts worked in open-pit mining operations, in which the ore is mined on the surface by means of steam shovels. The production of iron ore in the country has been estimated by the United States Geological Survey at 69,000,000 gross tons, which is approximately 13,000,000 tons more than was produced in 1919.

Lorton News

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

(For the Gazette)

Fifty-four nurses are attached to the American forces in Germany. Nevada has the fewest women in proportion to total population of any of the states.

One out of every twenty-five farms in the United States is operated by a woman.

American women have the most beautiful eyes in the world, says a widely-known London photographer. School teachers represent 50 per cent of all the women engaged in gainful occupations in the United States.

Statistics show that the majority of divorces are sought by women between the ages of twenty and twenty-five.

Women buy 48 per cent of all drugs, 96 per cent of all dry goods, 87 per cent of foods, and 50 per cent of automobiles.

A feme sole in law is a spinster, a widow, or a married woman, entirely independent of her husband as regards property.

Government statistics show that 98 per cent of farm women do the family washing, and more than half of them are still using the washboard. Minnesota is the only state that permits the marriage of girls fifteen years old without parental consent. In six states the age below which parental consent is necessary for the marriage of women is sixteen years. They are: Maryland, Nevada, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Tennessee and West Virginia.

REWARD

A reward of two hundred dollars ($200.00) is hereby offered by Fitzgerald Council No. 459, Knights of Columbus, for the arrest and conviction of the party or parties who robbed and assaulted Reverend Louis Smet on November 2nd, 1921. Wm. A. DeVaughan, Grand Knight, 262-5c. F. T. Quinn, Secretary.

COMMUNICATION

Whilst it is acknowledged as a cause of thankfulness and congratulation, that our town has been favored to escape the destructive ravages of fire, to any considerable extent, for three years past—the minds of many of our citizens are indulging serious forebodings of danger, to be apprehended from the unusual quantity of wood which will be acquired during the approaching season, to supply the place of coal, which has heretofore been exclusively used, but which the stockade of our bay prevents our procuring. That the risk from wood as fuel is much greater than that from coal, must be obvious to every person that has used both. The inhabitants of this place have been remarkable for their vigilance and attention in extinguishing fires—it is not less desirable and certainly a mark of greater wisdom, that they should be as vigilant in their care to prevent the causes of conflagration.

Dreadnaughts Strengthening For Big Game With Brentwood

With the acquisition of a few new players the Dreadnaught A. C., will put one of the fastest teams on the field this Sunday that ever represented a football club in this section. They will line up against one of the heaviest clubs in this section, the Brentwood A. C. This team averages about 160 pounds, and if the home club expects to win, they will have to hustle.

Alexander, who has been suffering from a dislocated shoulder, will be seen in the line up Sunday, also West, who has been suffering from some minor injuries.

The public is invited to see the real Dreadnaught team in action Sunday at 3:00 p. m.

On Sunday, the 13th, the Dreadnaughts will stack up against the Arlington A. C. This club held the Knickerbockers to a 0-0 score Sunday.

After taking two defeats in two days last week, the Dreadnaughts will attempt to regain their prestige with local fans the coming Sunday by playing the Brentwood All Stars, a strong fast team averaging 165 pounds.

The D's lost a hard game last Sunday to the Southern A. C., in the last two minutes of play on two long completed forward passes. Coming back from Richmond 1 o'clock Sunday morning worn out with travel and being all in from playing a team that outweighed them at least thirty pounds to the man, they put up a battle that any light team could well be proud of as the Richmond team did all of their scoring in the last quarter running up 37 points. A crippled backfield hurt their chances Sunday and they were lucky to be able to stay on their feet the full time. They will show you Sunday what they can do when they are able to put their full strength on the field.

Come out Sunday and boost this team as it is a home town outfit that deserves your support for clean athletics.

Points the Way to Comfort and Health. Other Women Please Read

Meunsville, W. Va.—“I had taken doctor's medicine for nearly two years because my periods were irregular, came every two weeks, and I would suffer with bearing-down pains. A lady told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and how much good it had done her daughter, so I took it and now I am regular every month and have no pain at all. I recommend your medicine to everyone and you may publish my testimonial, hoping that the Vegetable Compound does some other girl the good it has done me.”—Mrs. GEORGE TEGARDEN, 915 Third Street, Mounts-ville, W. Va.

How many young girls suffer as Mrs. Tegarden did and do not know where to turn for advice or help. They often are obliged to earn their living by toiling day in and day out no matter how hard the pain they have to bear. Every girl who suffers in this way should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and if she does not get prompt relief write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts, about her health. Such letters are held in strict confidence.

CANCER

By George Roberts M. D.

In 1865 after removing a cancer before a large class of eminent fathers of American Surgery, Dr. S. B. Gross said, “The knife will not cure cancer; should the growth not return, consumption will take the patient in one to two years.” The Mayo's have about come to the same conclusion. Without discussion of what cancer is we will take up the cause and effect, nature's laws. In all cases prevention is better than cure.

All cases of so-called incurables are due to defective nutrition, now called metabolism, the result of the food and drink we take and air we inhale. We will first attack salt as we are told that in countries where little or no salt is used cancer is unknown. Salt contains a virulent poison, chlorine, combined with soda. Salt is not a necessary article of diet, it is eliminated as such, and taxes the lungs, kidneys, and skin to eliminate. It is an acquired habit as useless as tobacco and alcohol. Sixty to seventy years ago, as children we ate lettuce, radish, onions and melons without salt. Now the habit is general. No salt is put on figs, dates, raisins, peaches and other fruits. Why the necessity on the former? Salt deadens the natural power. Claim is made that live-stock require it. On my 320 acre farm in Nebraska fine animals grow without salt. There were none better. Disease was unknown. A fine flock of Pekin ducks was killed by salt brine dumped in a drain where they found access.

Mrs. Eddy taught, “think not what you eat.” This was O. K. in the time of the ancients, but in the time of the moderns everything we eat, bread, rice and other cereals are deprived of the vital elements and are only starch. Milk is pasteurized, a detriment. In 1864 Dr. Rodgers of the University of Pennsylvania said the time would come when old clothes would be made into sugar. Now we have glucose made into syrup, candies, etc., to the detriment of those eating such. Palatability of an article is no criterion for its use as food. Animals in the Western prairies were poisoned by eating Loco plant. Children have been poisoned by eating the sweet flowers of oleander, polk berries and water parsnips. My brother when 3 years old tasted from a large bottle containing a solution of acetate of lead. He hid away and drank all of it and was found unconscious. A doctor next door by prompt treatment saved him. One lady, who years ago, had one breast removed for so-called cancer had a tumor coming in the other breast the size of a walnut. All night applications of a solution of Epsom Salts removed it not to return. Other cases have been relieved by the same method. We rely on the Epsom bath for all so-called incurables but unless attention is paid to proper nourishment, will not stay cured.

Why Should You Follow A Crooked Path?

Often a cowpath has been allowed to become a village street, and as the village expanded, tradition has made the winding way an expression of a cow's will.

Habit is always forging chains to enslave us, so that what has been found bearable by the fathers is accepted by the sons.

Who cannot recall the coffee-pot Mother put on the stove early in the morning, warning us not to let it boil over?

As children, we were not permitted to drink tea or coffee, because it would stunt our growth or make us nervous, and irritable. When older, however, we craved a hot drink with meals, and custom gave us our tea or coffee.

Finally, upon the instructions of the doctor, Mother gave up her tea and coffee. But that meant nothing in our young lives. Our vitality was then strong enough to throw off any ill effects.

But our time came, and we learned by experience that we could not drink tea or coffee. When we had it for breakfast it put our nerves on edge. When we drank it at the evening meal, we tossed about in wakefulness most of the night.

And then we found Postum, a pure cereal beverage, free from the harmful drug, caffeine, in tea and coffee. We liked the rich, satisfying flavor of Postum—and also the better health which resulted. And, too, we were surprised to find how many of our neighbors had made the same discovery—had learned the value of “health first.”

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes. Sold by all grocers.

branch of human endeavor, and that as optimism is a complex of courage and facts, we in America have a distinct advantage to begin with, for Yankee ingenuity and courage are proverbial.

The obvious thing to do then, says Mr. King, is to scurry around for a few optimistic facts. To begin with, it is necessary for us to do away with such gloomy forebodings as are based on present temporary conditions incident to the placing of our industrial house in order, for business uncertainties due to the new conditions of the times are sure to pass, in fact are already passing, for the surest way to banish apprehension is to reach a full realization of the problem in hand.

Among our present assets, says Mr. King, we find natural resources that have hardly been scratched—great manufacturing plants filled with modern machinery—shipways that built more ships than was ever thought possible in so short a time—the keenest business intellects on earth—capital in sufficient volume to finance the world—and above all a homely rugged pioneer courage that has pulled us through many a tight place in the past and will again. On the other hand we will find a demoralized market, an artificial condition which can and will be remedied—some difference of opinion as to the prices of labor and material—and a swarm of anxious competitors.

The article points out that favorable facts bearing on the shipbuilding industry are not so hard to find as it is supposed in some quarters, and he directs attention to the latest ship building statistics, a study of which shows that there is 11,703,000 more tons of shipping afloat than in 1914, and that it is estimated that under normal conditions 15,000,000 tons of ships would have been built during this past period of seven years.

There has obviously been no overproduction, says Mr. King, as our ships on hand include many old vessels which will have to be scrapped for vessels over 25 years old alone represent 5,757,175 gross tons. Taking this into consideration, we arrive at an increase of 5,945,825 gross tons of new ships over 1914, and these are the ships that are in the water. This leaves us with a total tonnage of 3,005,825 gross tons more of serviceable vessels for world trade than we had in 1914, which certainly cannot be considered an unwieldy surplus.

The conclusion reached from the facts at hand is that our present troubles are based on the decline in world trade and not upon the overproduction of ships. What is needed today, says Mr. King, is the courage to turn a strong light upon the complexities of the times, and though we must harbor no illusions, it is necessary that we nurse the inborn hope in our destiny to accomplish an industrial revival, for given faith in ourselves we will be able to struggle through endless misunderstandings toward the goal of industrial security.

MOTHER, QUICK! GIVE CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP FOR CHILD'S BOWELS

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again. Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on the bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

Comfort in the Hallway of Paramount Importance.

The hallway in many homes is not looked upon as a place in which comfort may play an important role. The decorations for it may be selected with care. The fact that it should reflect the spirit of the home may be given due consideration, but the many possibilities of making it comfortable are ignored.

Does the idea of a comfortable hallway confuse you? It need not. I do not mean that easy chairs and reading lamps should abound. The room is not used for lounging, but for just a moment's rest of the user to which it is put and the convenience those uses demand.

For instance, how many times must a package be signed for at the front door when no pencil is at hand? How many times is a messenger left standing for want of a convenient chair? How often is the message left for the absent member of the household forgotten because no pad of paper was near on which it could be written?

Now I am sure you understand what I mean by a comfortable hallway. A straight back chair should be placed in it and a table with a drawer and in the drawer a writing pad and pencil. A mirror over the table is also a great convenience. I am sure my feminine readers will agree to this. For what one of them does not know the necessity of the last inspection before starting out? Yes, a hallway can be comfortable.

"Standard" Motor Gasoline can't guard against this, but—

TUBE and tire blow-outs are easily fixed. But when you have "engine trouble"—have to tinker with the carburetor, clean carbon off spark plugs, run your battery down trying to start, and finally wind up by being towed in—the gasoline you are using may be partly to blame.

It takes a mighty good motor fuel to vaporize properly in freezing weather. "Standard" Motor Gasoline does. It prevents lots of "engine trouble." Years of careful experimentation, crudes from practically every developed producing field, perfected refining processes and careful tests during every stage of manufacture are your best guarantee of a properly balanced motor fuel—gasoline that keeps your car lively.

"Standard" Motor Gasoline is as uniform as nature and science can make it. It is an improved gasoline that enables you to run on a lean, economical mixture the year around. It assures quick starts and plenty of pulling power on the hardest hills.

Drive in where you see the familiar "S.O." sign and get a tankful of this improved and carefully balanced fuel. It may easily save you a lot of inconvenience and expense. One quality wherever you buy it. For sale everywhere.

LITTLE STORIES OF THE STREET

By
The Man About Town

The Post Office Department believes in taking time by the forelock. With Christmas looming up in the offing they are planning to lighten the burden upon the shoulders of our most willing public servants during the holiday season. A large sign prominently displayed in the local post-office gives the following excellent advice:

"Mail your Christmas packages early, wrap securely, make the address plain, and supply complete return address."

The city ordinances require that water tight metal containers be used for the disposal of garbage and the collectors have been advised by the various officials to discontinue collections from temporary containers such as old barrels, boxes and cans. If your waste is not removed from the premises promptly it may be that you are to blame and not the garbage man.

Having heard whispered rumors about the lack of proper sewerage connections in certain sections of the city The Man About Town hustled down to the City Hall and caught Dr. Louis E. Foulke, City Health Officer, busily engaged in filling out some charts concerning the presence of contagious diseases in the community. In reply to our inquiries regarding the rumor, that amiable health officer answered: "I am pleased to be able to say that conditions along that line are progressing rapidly. In fact there are not, at this time, over ten buildings in the city abutting on sewers which are not properly connected, and extensions of time have been granted the owners of these properties, upon good grounds. During the last two years we have accomplished a wonderful lot of work along that line. Those charts along the wall demonstrate clearly the improvement in local sanitary conditions. Since the first of January we have had only four cases of diphtheria and three cases of scarlet fever in the city. Typhoid is practically non-existent. The last case of small-pox was reported in May 1920.

There are 5 essential factors in the preservation of the health of the community continued the Doctor as he filled his pipe, "good water supply, safe disposal of waste, and good sewerage systems. Our water supply is unequalled. We make three tests daily and for the month of October our test sheet has been blank showing that no foreign and dangerous matter exists in our water. Garbage and waste is effectively disposed of, and that, without cost to the taxpayer. We have completed our new sewer extensions and they have been connected up. As fast as we find that conditions call for further extensions we present the matter to the City Council for action and they have cooperated with us throughout."

The door flew open and a gentleman with a tray containing an assortment of full milk bottles bustled in. "Meet my assistant, Dr. Garvey," exclaimed Dr. Foulke. "Dr. Garvey is a veterinarian. It is part of his duty to see that the dairy herds which supply the city's milk are given a tubercular test once every twelve months. He inspects the various dairies at irregular intervals and looks after the proper sanitation of them. During the day he stops the delivery wagons wherever he may find them and takes samples directly from the containers. Should the milk not be up to requirements, the dairyman hears from us immediately."

It being plainly evident that the Doctor and his staff were exceedingly busy, The Man About Town thanked them for the information and gracefully made his get-a-way. We feel certain that our readers will be pleased to know that their health is being so faithfully guarded.

American Red Cross

The Alexandria Chapter has employed the method of the Prosperous Farmer and the First Class Engineer, and secured the services of a graduate Public Health Nurse who daily goes her rounds caring for the sick correcting physical defects, improving the health of the family, and consequently the community. She has been employed almost a year and in that time has worked in co-operation with the City and State Health Departments.

During the war the soldiers used to sing:

"Through war's red curse, Stands the Red Cross Nurse, She's the Rose of No Man's Land."—and it might be said with equal truth that such useful unselfish service, so far reaching in its good results, has made our own Red Cross Nurse like a Rose in No Man's Land especially in homes, where a young life hangs on a thread or where poverty, disease and old age have combined to make the last struggle for existence appear hopeless.

Red Cross in Prison.

Behind the gray walls of San Quentin, in the women's department, are twenty inmates entitled to wear the small enameled buttons of Red Cross service on their blue and white uniforms. Twenty women, some with long sentences, some with short, and a few life terms, have earned the badges of the Red Cross Aid.

Women who slipped away from laws, some leaving babies behind them in the great outside, are pledged to sew four hours each week for the little waifs of Europe. Happiness and peace, we suppose, enter their hearts as they stitch away on the tiny garments that will clothe children they are never to see.

GROWS LONG, THICK AND ABUNDANT

"Dandarine" costs only 35 cents a bottle. One application ends all dandruff, stops itching and falling hair, and in a few moments, you have doubled the beauty of your hair. It will appear a mass, so soft, lustrous, and easy to do up. But what will please you most will be after a few weeks use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really hair growing all over the scalp. "Dandarine" is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. This delightful, stimulating tonic helps thin, lifeless, faded hair to grow long, thick, heavy and luxuriant.

How an EXPECTANT MOTHER Prepared for Baby's Coming

Do YOU know that thousands of women never really suffer at child-birth? Perhaps you have thought with many others that this should always be the case. But how?

Let Mrs. Mattie Paul, of Ocilla, Ga., tell you. She is one of thousands who has demonstrated this fact:

"As I am a young mother of one baby, I am writing for free booklet to 'expectant mothers.' I used only two bottles of Mother's Friend before I was confined and had a quick and easy time through labor. I can recommend Mother's Friend to all expectant mothers. I will never go through pregnancy without it."

You, too, can have this booklet for expectant mothers by sending coupon below.

It goes into the features of maternity and gives, in a plain, interesting manner, information about what the mother needs in clothing before baby is born; what clothing will be necessary for the baby; an interesting table as to the probable date of delivery; simple but necessary and helpful rules of hygiene to follow, and much other worth-while information. This little booklet also tells about Mother's Friend and the wonderful good it is doing for expectant mothers.

Don't let false modesty keep you from performing this duty to yourself—your family—and your baby.

Send for your copy NOW.

WARNING: Avoid using plain oils, greases and substitutes—they act only on the skin and may cause harm without doing good.

Strengthens Weak Arches

W. T. Clark, a noted foot doctor, writes in the Medical Record: "I advise patients who have been wearing arch supporters any great length of time to continue wearing them early in the treatment by removing them first two hours, then three hours a day until the supports are gradually dispensed with."

"Placed in the shoe, arch supports are worn about fourteen hours a day exerting constant pressure, greatly reducing the blood supply and limiting the action of the plantar muscles, resulting in undernourishment and disuse atrophy."

Cantilever Shoes have the flexible arch which allows the muscles to exercise and strengthen by the mere act of walking. The shank of the shoe is not rigid as in all ordinary shoes, but flexible just as the arch of your foot is flexible. The lines of the Cantilever Shoe harmonize with the shape of your foot, with room for the toes and a snug fitting "waist" or instep.

The ordinary case of weak foot is supported sufficiently by the arch-conforming shank of the Cantilever Shoe, so you can dispense with appliances while the freedom of the shoe allows your foot to regain its strength naturally. (A "weak arch" is nothing but a failure of the arch bones in normal position). Nature will do her utmost to strengthen a weak arch if given a chance.

And Cantilever Shoes are so good looking and comfortable that you feel happy all the time you are wearing them. They are worn principally by well-dressed women who have no foot trouble at all, because these women have found it an advantage in life to keep their feet strong and well, comfortable and happy.
